The Falling Leaves...

A hearty “thank you” to Movable Feast hosts Milo Stella, Eli Pimentel, and Nancy Anderson for their hospitality; to the dedicated committee who pulled the event together; and to the more than 80 neighbors, old and new, who turned out to enjoy a beautiful late-summer evening. See inside for a few party pix!

The next Ashmont Hill Association meeting is on Thursday, September 28, 7:30 p.m., at 42 Ocean Street, hosted by Bob and Vicki Rugo. Light supper at 7 as always. On the agenda: Josh Waxman, new executive director of the Martin Richard Foundation; At-large Boston City Councilor Annissa Essaibi George; the C-11 monthly report; and any other announcements, issues, or concerns that may come up.

At this meeting we will also take nominations for the AHA Board for 2017-2018, with elections at the October Annual Meeting. While most if not all current Board members are willing to continue, neighbors who have interests and ideas about programs or activities that AHA should consider are encouraged to get involved. Write to info@ashmonthill.org with questions.

The October meeting also will feature a presentation on the Dot Greenway proposed for the Red Line tunnel

Dorchester Historical Society Events

Poetry Reading: On Sunday, October 15, at 2 p.m., Dorchester residents Sandra Kohler and U Meleni Adebo will read their poetry that was inspired by the place where we live. The two poets have participated in the Write on the DOT program at UMass Boston, a literary reading series that features Dorchester writers alongside MFA students in creative writing. At the William Clapp House, 195 Boston Street. Free and open to the public.

Hidden Treasures of Dorchester: On Sunday, October 22, at 2 p.m., DHS board member Andrew Saxe presents an expanded version of his popular illustrated talk on Dorchester's architecture and development that includes churches, architecturally significant houses, including selected interiors, as well as the Baker Chocolate complex, an example of the repurposing of historic structures for modern needs. This is not a lecture on "lost Dorchester" but rather an exuberant display of the houses and buildings in Dorchester that can be visited today. In Peabody Hall at All Saints Church, 209 Ashmont Street. Free and open to the public.

ADSL Fall Programs

Baseball Clinics: October 7 - 28, Thursdays at 5:30 p.m., Saturdays at 10 a.m. For ages 7-10 and 11-12. $40 registration fee. At Town Field in Fields Corner

In-house Basketball League: Starting October 7, every Saturday, 10 a.m. - noon, and one weekday practice. For ages 7 - 10. $60 registration fee. At DotHouse Gym.

Tutoring & Enrichment: Monday - Thursday, 3 - 5:30 p.m., starting October 9. For elementary through 9th graders. $20 fee for the year. At ADSL, 1565 Dorchester Avenue in Fields Corner.

Volunteer Tutors Needed: High school juniors/seniors or college students to tutor in math, reading, science, art; volunteer hours provided.

Info/register all programs: 617-287-1601 or alldorchestersports.org.

The 20th Annual Movable Feast!

Neighbors enjoyed a glorious late summer evening with yummy food and sought after prizes.

About the Neighborhood

Kitchen Envy Tour

Visit newly renovated kitchens in the Carruth Street area on Sunday, September 24, 1 - 4 p.m. See the latest in layouts, appliances, and finishes, while enjoying light bites at every stop as homeowners share their renovation stories. Tour starts at 13 Carruth Street. Tickets: $25 in advance, $30 at the door. Go to www.eventbrite.com/e/kitchen-envy-tour-tickets-8603410031 or mail check payable to AANA to Pat O'Neill, 319 Ashmont Street, Dorchester 02124. Proceeds benefit the Ashmont Adams Neighborhood Association.

Ashmont Hill Book Group

Book Group's next meeting is on Wednesday, October 4, 7:15 p.m., at 113 Ocean Street, hosted by Jill Carrier. October's book is The Wright Brothers, by David McCulloch. Reading ahead, the book for November is Commonwealth, by Ann Patchett. Book Group meets the first Wednesday of the month; all are welcome! Info: klil@yahoo.com.

Men of Boston Still Cooking!

Men of Boston Cook for Women's Health celebrates 20 years, returning on Thursday, October 5, at 6 p.m., under the gala tent at the Codman Square Health Center, 637 Washington Street. One of the best food and wine events in Boston, right here in the neighborhood, this annual fundraiser pairs 30 of the finest restaurants with local celebrities to serve up samples of delicious cuisine, to benefit women's health programs in Dorchester. Tickets: www.menofboston.com.

Boston Youth Expo

The Boston Youth Expo, on Saturday, October 7, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., will offer information on careers, full- and part-time job opportunities, summer jobs for 2018, college access, resume and cover letter writing, and more, for young people ages 16 to 21. Plus music and fun! The Expo takes place at the Boys and Girls Club of Boston, 15 Talbot Avenue. Info: Juwan Skeens, Neighborhood Liaison for District 4 City Councilor Andrea Campbell, 617-635-3131.

American Soundtrack

On Sunday, October 8, at 4 p.m., Ashmont Hill Chamber Music presents American Soundtrack, a celebration of the diverse communities of Dorchester and by extension, many other American communities. The program features the world premiere of Charles Stacy's Crossroads and Confluences. Commissioned by AHCM and performed by HUB New Music, the piece celebrates the geography of Dorchester and four of its major cultural groups: African American, Caribbean, Vietnamese, and Irish. Also on the program: Dvorák's String Quartet No.12, Op. 96 "American," performed by the Chroma Quartet, and the Boston City Singers Tour Choir with songs from the communities that are the focus of the commissioned piece. A post-concert reception will offer a selection of finger foods from these communities as well. Concert takes place in Peabody Hall at All Saints Church, 209 Ashmont Street. Tickets $25 at ahchambermusic.org or at the door; children 13 and under free admission.

Hubway Expansion Meetings

The Boston Transportation Department plans to add more than 70 Hubway bike share stations, including in neighborhoods that don't currently have the service. They are holding meetings across the city to give residents an opportunity to provide input on new locations: upcoming Dorchester meetings are on Monday, October 16, 6 - 8 p.m., at the Adams Street Library, and Saturday, October 21, 10 a.m. - noon, at the Codman Square Library. Suggestions for potential locations may also be made at suggest.thehubway.com.
